

EVERYTHING READY FOR PRESS ASSOCIATION'S BIG TRIP.

Secretary Morningstar Tells of All the Plans to Entertain the "Pencil Pushers."

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Press Association at Madisonville, which convenes in Madisonville, says the Courier-Journal, is expected to be one of the greatest meetings of the association since its organization thirty-two years ago. The Madisonville people are making great preparations for the entertainment of the newspaper people, and there will be no end to the hospitality to be displayed. The first session will be held at the Morton Opera-house, one of the finest places of amusement in the South. It was recently built by Will Morton, a young banker, with a penchant for architecture, who made all the plans and supervised the construction himself. This meeting will be in the nature of a "jolly" for the visitors. There will be speeches of welcome, responses, music and some literary numbers on the program.

On Friday morning there will be a business session, followed by an excursion to Earlinton, where the mines will be inspected and where a luncheon will be given in honor of the scribes and their ladies.

In 1878, twenty-three years ago, the association met at Hopkinsville, and a similar excursion was given, which association history records as being one of the most pleasing entertainments ever given in its honor. Earlinton bids fair to outdo its former success.

Upon the return to Madisonville in the afternoon, there will be a business session and a drive about the city. In the evening a reception will be given in honor of the guests.

The number who will go on the Western tour is far in excess of the expectations of Secretary R. E. Morningstar, so he has been compelled to change the time of departure from Madisonville to 9:30 o'clock instead of 11:11 p. m. Mr. J. H. Ringgold, of the L. & N. railroad, tendered the association a special engine to take the train to St. Louis from Madisonville, consequently there will be a special train of Pullman cars to leave at 9:30 p. m. This will make the reception shorter, but there is no alternative. This special train will arrive at St. Louis 6 a. m. and the party will be met by the Publicity Committee of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Just what program this committee will follow has not been made known, but there is no doubt that the three hours will be spent in a manner pleasing to the tourists.

The departure from St. Louis will be taken at 9 o'clock in the morning over the Missouri Pacific, arriving at Jefferson City for dinner and at Kansas City for supper. No attempt will be made at sight-seeing in these two cities. After the short stop at Kansas City, the party will arrive at Horace, Col., for breakfast on Sunday morning and at Pueblo for dinner. Here the Denver and Rio Grande takes the train and reaches Denver at 3:40 p. m.

Former Kentuckians at Denver.

The party will be in charge of former Kentuckians who now reside in that city, and all the principal places will be seen. An informal reception will be given at the Brown Palace Hotel in the evening. An elaborate sightseeing programme has been arranged for Denver and the day will be most pleasantly employed. The departure from Denver will be Sunday night next.

Colorado Springs, Manitou and Pike's Peak come in next. After that a stop of ten hours at Grand Junction where special entertainment will be provided.

The next stop will be at Salt Lake City, and here there will be two busy days of sight-seeing and feasting. Mr. William Iglehart, formerly of Evansville, Ind., whose wife was Miss Ruth Priest, of Henderson, is proprietor of the Salt Lake City Herald. He heard of the editors coming and at once set to work arranging a programme. Then President D. P. Felt, of the Utah Press Association, called a special meeting of the association to take steps toward the entertainment, and from reports received from the two gentlemen named above there will be "doings" when the Kentuckians reach the "Zion City."

Upon their arrival Wednesday noon, August 7, they will be taken immediately to Saltair Beach for a plunge in the Great Salt Lake. They will remain at the Pavilion for lunch. In the evening they will visit several of the amusement parks and theatres. Thursday morning the most historical and interesting sights of the Mormon people will be taken in and there will be a special recital in the Mormon Tabernacle by the renowned organist, Prof. McCellan. The afternoon will be spent at the Lagoon, a noted resort, and in the evening a special performance will be given by the Wilbur-Kirwan Opera Company in honor of the Kentuckians at the Salt Palace. Friday morning arolley ride will be taken to Fort Douglas, a regular army post, as the guests of Mr. Will Iglehart, to whom the newspaper men are deeply grateful for his efforts to entertain them during their visit to Salt Lake City. The departure from Salt Lake Friday at 3 p. m., will end the busy stay there. The return trip will be made direct with the exception that three hours will be spent in St. Louis on August 11.

Most Extensive Trip of All.

This is the most extensive trip Secretary Morningstar has ever undertaken to arrange for the "boys," and in speaking of the tour he was enthusiastic in his remarks concerning the railroads which have done so much to make this trip possible. "The L. & N.," he said, has always given the boys everything desired, and in this instance has tendered a special train to St. Louis from Madisonville. Mr. J. H. Ringgold told me that the L. & N. was ready to do everything possible to make the trip a success, and he has certainly done much. The Missouri Pacific also took an active part in assisting me in my work. Col. H. C. Townsend, the General Passenger Agent, designated two of his best assistants to conduct the party, and we shall have Mr. Brainard Allison, of St. Louis, and Mr. R. T. G. Matthews, of

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Names Full County Ticket and Has a Good Time.

SPLENDID TICKET IS CHOSEN.

Speeches Made by Leaders and All Made Ready for Campaign.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF SECRETARY.

The following is the official report of Secretary Zimmer of the proceedings of the Hopkins county Republican convention held at Madisonville Monday:

The Republican county convention was called to order by County Chairman Harvey at 1:30 p. m. After a prayer by Rev. Mackey, the chairman stated the purpose of the convention and called for nominations for temporary chairman and secretary.

Dr. J. L. Dulin was elected chairman and F. V. Zimmer secretary. The following committees were then appointed:

Resolutions—John Atkinson, C. J. Waddill, P. W. DeMoss, Tony Bradley, W. P. Scott, Dr. W. F. Kell, Will Robinson.

Credentials—Bob Hall, Garland Fisher, J. D. Rudd, Leland Cullen, Jack Dockery, George Finley, W. D. Caviness.

Rules and Procedure—H. H. Hill, George Crumbaker, Joseph Haywood, C. R. Peyton, Bailey Robinson, F. W. Gardner, Moses Graves.

While the several committees were deliberating rousing speeches were made by several delegates. The assembly was in excellent spirits and repeated applause shook the building to its foundations.

The reports of the several committees were read and approved by vote. The committee on Credentials reported no contests. The fact that the report of the committee on Resolutions was adopted without a dissenting voice was noteworthy, as settling once for all the stand that the party has taken with regard to local issues. Below is the report:

"Your committee beg leave to report the following resolutions: 'We approve the call for this convention; we declare that public office is a public trust, and civil officers are servants of the people. Our officers should be sober, discreet, moral, competent and of good demeanor. True merit should be the test of fitness for office. We are opposed to ring rule and machine methods. The voice of the people should be heard and their rights respected and interests protected.'

"We favor law and order, prosperity and progress. The officer and citizen should use every effort to advance the material interests of our country and to secure the peace, good order and happiness of the people. We are opposed to stirring up strife between classes dependent upon each other. We should not array man against man for we are all brothers. Capital and labor should both be protected and be made to respect the rights of each other. We favor progressive enterprises, active capital and honest, industrious workingmen. We have no patience with the man who wants to be out of a job. County government should be faithfully and economically administered in the interests of the whole people. We invite all good citizens to arise above a narrow partisanship and to vote and act with conscience and judgment and to stand up for Hopkins county."

Chairman Committee."

The following candidates were nominated by acclamation:

Representative—L. F. McLaughlin.

County Judge—H. F. Porter.

County Clerk—C. H. Murphy.

County Attorney—T. E. Finley.

Sheriff—Robert Morrow.

Delmont Utley, Miss Belle Story, Shack Wyatt and C. M. Lutz were put in nomination for county school superintendent but all were withdrawn except that of C. M. Lutz before the precincts were called.

Nominations for jailer were then called for. L. H. Johnson, Burr Young, G. W. Gower and Thomas Barnes were presented. After the precincts were called twice all candidates withdrew in favor of L. H. Johnson who was then nominated by acclamation.

For assessor, three names were presented, W. H. Lynn, J. Clark and Samuel Frazier. Only one ballot was taken; J. Clark was dropped and W. H. Lynn asked that his name be withdrawn.

For coroner and surveyor, Chick Foley and Judge William Beard, respectively, were nominated by acclamation.

For magistrates and constables, the following candidates were nominated:

No. 1—Dabney Bishop for magistrate; Claud Hancock for constable.

No. 2—W. D. Laffoon for magistrate.

No. 3—John Todd for magistrate; Geo. Crumbaker for constable.

No. 4—No nominations.

No. 5—John W. Bone for magistrate; R. S. Hill constable.

No. 6—Walker Franklin for magistrate; T. A. Chappel constable.

No. 7—R. R. Graham for magistrate; Robert Crow constable. Motion to adjourn, carried.

Convention Notes.

F. V. Zimmer says the ticket that was selected Monday ought to cure all sick Republicans if any are sick.

The speech of Mayor Ross before the Republican convention helped to strengthen the feeling of harmony and of security entertained by the Republicans and Independents of Hopkins county.

Will P. Scott was in evidence Monday with his kindly countenance and genial bulk of brain and body contributing all he had to help make the convention notable for the harmony and wisdom of its acts in the effort to select the best men to uphold the honor and credit of Hopkins county and win out before the people at the next November election.

Lat McLaughlin is pluming himself for a campaign of oratory that is sure to make him popular with many who do not personally know him yet, and he will be heard all over the county—some distance at a time, with his sonorous voice. And there are other speakers—Finley, Scott, Waddill, Zimmer, Murphy—maybe a number of others. There is much that might be spoken to the people and the situation may bring out some talent not mentioned and develop latent talent not known before.

It was a big, enthusiastic, harmonious convention and everybody was in a good humor.

THE LIABILITY OF LABOR UNIONS FOR DAMAGES---THE LUCKE CASE.

The latest development in this somewhat famous case is the award on September 19th, by a jury verdict, of $2,500 damages to George W. Lucke, against the Clothing Cutters' and Trimmers' Assembly, No. 7507, of the Knights of Labor. The history of the case may be briefly stated as follows:

Lucke was a clothing cutter of special skill—a sort of artist in that line—employed about two years ago by one of the leading establishments of Baltimore. As he was not a member of the labor union, that body sent a delegation to his employers demanding his discharge and threatening that if this demand was refused, the name of the house would be removed from the directory of "union" business concerns—in plain words, the house would be boycotted.

The employers dared not risk this injury to their business, and Lucke himself, in order to remove the pretext for the threat, applied for membership in the labor union. If he had been admitted, and the difficulty had thus been smoothed away, probably nothing would have been heard of the case by the public. It would have passed, like hundreds of similar cases occurring every day, in which the walking delegate dictates terms to helpless employers and contractors. But "Labor" was not satisfied in this case, with ordinary victory. Lucke was refused admission to the union, under some technical pretense not involving any fault on his part; and the persecution of him was continued until he lost his place. Thus brought to bay, and not permitted even to surrender, he turned upon his enemies and sued the union for damages.

The first suit failed, practically on a point of pleading, but under a ruling of the Court of Appeals a second was brought, which has now resulted in a verdict in his favor. It is reported that an appeal will be taken by the Knights of Labor, and it is to be hoped that this will be done, so that the question may be settled by the highest authority, whether labor unions are, like all other associations of individuals, liable in damages for the effect of their proceedings.

As I have repeatedly pointed out, the heart of the difficulty of dealing with these unions is that they are treated as practically irresponsible. I do not believe they are legally so, although the laws of many states have licensed them to do some things which are forbidden to private citizens or corporations. But there is still law enough to hold them responsible for criminal acts and for civil wrongs, and it is a matter for congratulation when this fact is proved by the courage and persistency of a victim of their oppression.

A money verdict against such a society will of course be, first of all, a claim upon the treasury and property of the organization. But if that does not satisfy the claim, I think any individual member would be liable. If the labor unions wish to remain unlimited partnerships, they must accept the unlimited responsibilities of partners. If they wish to enjoy the limited liability of corporations, they should assume also the form and duties of corporations, and submit to the public inspection and control to which corporations are subject. But they certainly ought not to remain as nondescripts, having no responsibility at all.—R. W. Raymond, in Engineering and Mining Journal, Sept. 29, 1894.

ANOTHER BIG SHOW FOR LOUISVILLE.

Louisville Interstate Fair to be Held in the Fall.

The Louisville Interstate Fair, which is to be held in Louisville September 28d to October 5th next, under the auspices of the Louisville Merchants and Manufacturers Association, and the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders Association, promises to be America's grandest exhibit of live stock and farm products. The executive Committee have decided that the fair shall take place on Churchill Downs, the spacious, thoroughly equipped and accessible grounds of the New Louisville Jockey Club, where thousands attended the successful race season just closed. Everything possible will be done for the safety and comfort of visitors. The nominal admission charges, together with very low railroad and steamboat passenger rates, will certainly do much to increase the volume of attendance, while the offers of large premiums and cheap shipping rates will draw exhibitors in unprecedented numbers.

The cattle show will be particularly fine and extensive, and will be held during the first week of the fair, from September 28d to September 29th, both inclusive, under the direction of the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders Association, and during the week there will be mammoth sales of live stock, including beef and dairy cattle, horses, jacks, mules, sheep and swine.

There will be $15,000.00 given in cash premiums at this show.

The fair, generally, will be a "Simon Pure" old fashioned country fair, with up-to-date and novel attractions. While the exact features cannot yet be announced, it may be said that among them will probably be speed contests on an illuminated track, including bicycle, automobile, Roman chariot and standing races, as well as running, trotting and pacing exhibitions; there will be a magnificent Roman Carnival, and a large number of thrilling mid-air acts, and attractions of high order of merit, it having been determined by the promoters to tolerate no immoral or fraudulent exhibition on the grounds.

There will be $2,500.00 given away in prizes October 4th and 5th in the champion amateur athletic meet, in which America's greatest athletes will compete. Transportation will be furnished qualifying athletes.

We are assured by the management that no pains or expense will be spared to make this fair one of the largest and grandest ever attempted in this country.

Speaking of the great steel strike, the New York Journal, with its usual democratic instinct, says: "The consolidation of capital means the consolidation of labor, and the sooner the fact is generally recognized and accepted the sooner we will have permanent industrial peace." The Journal has the cart before the horse. Unionism was strong in this country before trusts were dreamed of.—Weekly Economist.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1901.

An exchange strikes its poetic harp in the following: "Sing ho for the Kentucky cow, sing ho for the little brown hen; such a couple was never on earth below, to feather the nests of. With the golden product of good Queen Bess no "udder" can compare. While the snowy fruit of the cackling 'beaut' brings a solace for every care. Men risk their lives for the golden ore laid deep in the frozen clime, when these faithful servants bring them more and peace at the self-same time. With pasture in plenty and bugs galore, they'll never lack for feed; their stock is at par at the grocery store for the things the farmers need. Then three times three for bovine 'shew' and three for the female fowl at the farmer's door, which they feed before, no wolf has a chance to howl. No poet's dream e're hatched a theme more worthy a poet's pen, than the kindly queen of the pasture green and the busy cackling hen.

THE WEATHER.

I notice an article in some paper not long since where some blooming idiot made the startling announcement that the earth had been gradually receding from the sun for the last twenty years and that we are now one million miles further from the sun than we were twenty years ago, and furthermore it was only a matter of time when the earth would be frozen solid, all vegetation will cease and all animal life become extinct.

I wish the gentleman who made the announcement would come to Earlington and stand in front of the passenger depot from two until four p. m. I think he would come to the conclusion that his statement should be revised as this particular spot was the hottest place in North America.

When it gets so warm that the glass insulators on the telegraph and telephone poles melt and run down and the railroad iron warps and bows so the trucks won't fit you may know things are getting pretty warm in this part of the country. Upon Bald Knob the heat has been so intense it has drawn the nails out of the weather-boarding on the south side of the house and we have to prop it up with poles.

On last Tuesday when the thermometer reached 145 and burst Mrs. Timmie left two tin buckets on the shelf outside the door to sun. She had occasion to use them about three o'clock and when she picked them up the bottoms came out of both, the ears had melted off and the sides came unsoldered. This statement, sounds rather fishy I know, but anyone desiring ocular proof of this we will be glad to show them the bucket handles. TIMMIE.

A ROYAL LOVE MATCH.

Duke William of Saxe-Weimar to Wed a Charming Princess.

William Ernest, grand duke of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, heir of the Thuringia, margrave of Meissen and count of a dozen other places, has until a few days ago been considered the greatest "catch" in Europe for royal maidens of marriageable age. He is out of that class now, however. He has openly shown his preference for one young woman, and their engagement is discussed by all interested in court matters. The girl honored by the royal preference is the Princess Alexandra Louise, daughter of the Duke of Cumberland and Teviotdale. The duke also holds the titles of duke of Brunswick and Lüneburg and was until 1892 claimant of the throne of Hanover.

Grand Duke William Ernest is 25 years of age and succeeded to his grandfather's titles and wealth last January. He is one of the numerous royal sovereigns whose dominions help to make up the German empire. His wealth is immense, for he owns very valuable estates in northern Germany, Holland and Austria, besides a fortune of millions in cash. As he is a reigning sovereign, it is small wonder that the Grand Duke William has been considered the best "part" of Europe. For some years royal and noble go-sips have been busy with his name, no fewer than seven princesses and grand duchesses having been named as objects of his regard.

The engagement of the grand duke to the German-Alexandria princess is described as a genuine love match. Princess Alexandra Louise through her father is descended from the royal house of Great Britain, and her father's chief title is British. He is a great-grandson of George III. The mother of the princess is a sister of Queen Alexandra of England. Princess Alexandra Louise is quite wealthy in her own right and is one of the most beautiful of European princesses. Her grandfather was George V, the last king of Hanover. He lost that title through adherence to Austria during the Austro-Prussian war in 1866. The Duke of Cumberland, his son and heir, father of Princess Alexandra, would be reigning duke of Brunswick now were it not that he refuses to swear allegiance to Emperor William of Germany.

MISS CLAIRE CONDERT.

Condert, is one of America's leading lawyers. Miss Condert is a handsome and clever girl of mixed French and American descent, and her popularity in Paris and New York is not difficult of explanation. It was reported last spring that Miss Condert was engaged to a young American physician, but that engagement seems to have been declared off. At any rate, it is whispered that Miss Condert's sister, the Comtesse de Chateaufort, is quite anxious to have her make a brilliant foreign match, and it may be that Miss Condert's will be another case of the American heiress marrying the European nobleman.

MARK TWAIN'S LETTER

DECLINING INVITATION.

He Mingles Pathos and Humor in Addressing Old Friends.

Mark Twain, writing among the Adirondack lakes sends a characteristic letter, regretting his inability to be present in Kansas City on August 10, when the anniversary of the admission of Missouri into the Union, will be celebrated. He was born in Munroe county, and was one of the first to be asked to take part in the celebration of the State's eightieth birthday.

His letter is full of pathos, for, while there is ever present his rollicking, mirthful humor, one sees the tears fall and hears the choke in the voice. His letter is like an April day, with the sun shining in spite of the clouds and rain. An extract from the letter was printed in Tuesday's Commercial Tribune. In full it reads:

By an error in the plans things go wrong and first in this world; and so much precious time is lost and matters of urgent importance are fatally retarded. Invitations which a brisk young fellow should get, and which would transport him with joy, are delayed and impeded and obstructed until they are fifty years overdue when they reach him. It has happened again in this case. When I was a boy in Missouri I was always on the lookout for invitations, but they always miscarried and went wandering through the aisles of time and now they are arriving when I am old and rheumatic and can't travel and must lose my chance. I have lost a world of delight through this matter of delaying invitations. Fifty years ago I would have gone eagerly across the world to help celebrate anything that might turn. It would have made no difference to me what it was so that I was there and allowed a chance to make a noise.

The whole science of things is turned wrong-end-to. Life should begin with age and privileges and accumulations, and end with youth and its capacity to splendidly enjoy such advantages. As things are now, when in youth a dollar would bring you a hundred pleasures, you can't get it; when you are old you get it, and there's nothing worth buying with it then. It's an epitome of life. The first half of it consists of the capacity to enjoy without the chance, the last half consists of the chance without the capacity.

I am admonished in many ways that time is pushing me inexorably along. I am approaching the threshold of age; in 1877 I shall be 142. This is not the time to be flitting about the earth; I must cease from the activities proper to youth and begin to take on the dignities and gravities and inertia proper to that season of honorable senility, which is on its way and imminent—as indicated above.

Yours is a great and memorable occasion, and as a son of Missouri I should hold it a high privilege to be there and share your just pride in the State's achievements, but I must deny myself the indulgence, while thanking you earnestly for the prized honor you have done me in asking me to be present.

The noted humorist, passing toward the end of the path which has been strewn with flowers of public appreciation and applause puts into words a thought which comes to us all. The youth, he says, has the capacity to enjoy life without the chance, while age brings the chance without the capacity.

If some mighty brain could devise the happy medium, life would be one glad, sweet song. But until this happens, it is the philosopher who points out the best way. He says to take things as they come, be they chance or capacity, and to make the best of them.

The fishing party arrived last Friday morning from Rochester. They are all looking well and feeling better since their outing, and speak in very complimentary terms of Rochester and her people.

Mr. W. H. Stovall and Miss Ida Sparks, of St. Charles, were united in marriage in front of Hotel Lucile Saturday, by Rev. Gatlin. It is becoming quite a fad, it seems, to have the nuptial knot tied in a buggy.

Mr. Elmo Shaver and family, who have been making their home at Crofton for the past year, where Mr. Shaver has been firing on the Empire Hill engine, are moving back to Earlinton to-day. Mr. Shaver will hereafter have his lay-over at this point. We are glad to welcome him back.

Tender Memories.

My mind travels back to the long

When I was a barefoot boy;
Happy and care free all the day long
Brimming over with innocent joy.
How well I remember the old farm
rate,

The apple tree in the lane,
The miniature pools that stood in the yard,

That I waded in after a rain.
And down in the field not far away
Stood a shady hickory tree,
A grapevine twined round its rugged trunk,

And furnished a swing for me.
As I rose and fell on that grapevine swing,

My spirits were lighter than air;
My mind free from worry and strife
And my heart knew never a care.

I call to mind the summer day,
The humming laughing brook,
When roaming through the fragrant
wood,

I learned from nature's book.
I saw where the rain crow made his home,

And learned where the squirrels nested.

I found where Bob White hid his eggs,
And left them unmolested.

But sweeter, dearer, far than these,
Was the love of Bulah Clare,
With the blue of heaven in her eyes,
And a head of gold brown hair.

With throbbing heart I watched her pass,
And gazed with rapturous eyes.

I thought she was an angel then—
Just come down from the skies.
Those dear old times have long since gone,

And now it's little joy,
To know I'll ne'er be happy again,
As when I was a boy.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, it cures catarrh of the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the fountain of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A Ministers Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "A neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible state, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." It has been calculated that something like 1,250,000,000 pints of tea are imbibed yearly by Londoners, and that the teapot necessary to contain that amount, if properly shaped, would comfortably take in the whole of St. Paul Cathedral.

THE HEADLIGHTS.

A temporary track has been laid around the tunnel or the O. & N., and business on that road will be resumed this week from Owensboro to Russellville. This will obviate the necessity of running a daily train from Earlinton to Central City over the Illinois Central.

Don Wise, who has been working for the Monon some time, had the misfortune to lose three fingers on his right hand while coupling cars.

The fishing party from Rochester has returned. C. J. Martin reports a lovely time and says the weather was delightfully cool and pleasant; no mosquitos, no bug, no snakes, but plenty of fish and game. In fact the fish were so plentiful they would jump out of the water long enough for him to shoot them and then float until he could row out in a skiff and pick them up. The squirrels were so tame they would crawl around the tents at night and sit on their hind legs and bark so the people could not sleep. Turkeys and pheasants were plentiful, but they did not have time to kill any. According to Cal's statements everything was lovely and the proverbial goose hung as high as a telegraph pole.

Joe W. Logsdon, the gentlemanly and urbane superintendent of this division, and J. B. Harlan, chief special agent of the L. & N. system, were in the city one day last week.

E. M. Orr has been running on one side for the last few days. He was suffering from a pain in his chest and put a mustard plaster about the size of a saddle blanket on his back and went to bed. He told us confidentially "what that mustard plaster did to him was sufficient."

Deglen McGrath, who is ill with fever, is slowly improving.

Kitchell Walker and Will Luton are running the night yard engine at Henderson for a few days.

Business on the Henderson division has been unusually good this summer. It used to be the case in the summer months that only one yard engine was needed and that one was not busy all the time, but this summer both engines are kept constantly busy and the crews are run as hard as they are in winter.

The "Henderson Route" officials report very heavy travel by their line to Oklahoma, account opening of the new lands.

The Henderson Route has just added several handsome new day coaches to their passenger equipment, which, together with fine Pullmans and elegant chair cars operated by them between Louisville and St. Louis, is gaining for the road a surprising amount of through travel.

The prettiest scenery this season of the year is that along the line of the popular "Henderson Route." Almost the entire distance from Louisville to Henderson you are in full view of the Ohio river, in addition to this the elegant ballast of the road makes it desirable to the traveler as it is almost free from dust.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, to stimulate the nervous system and action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad, and the headache and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied. There is nothing the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. St. Bernard Drug Store.

THE DRAWING HAS BEGUN.

Twenty Thousand Excited, Expectant People Around the Platform at El Reno.

DEMONSTRATION WHEN DRAWING BEGAN.

James B. Wood, of Weatherford, Okla., and Mattie H. Beale, of Wichita, Kas., a Missouri girl, claim prize in the drawing.

El Reno, Okla., July 30.—Oklahoma's great lotto drawing was begun here in earnest yesterday, and when the commissioners appointed by the federal government announced the drawing for the $1,000,000 of the thirteen thousand-100-acre claims in the Kiowa-Cameche country had been awarded.

The first name from the drawing wheels was that of Stephen A. Holt, of Weatherford, Okla., whose name was the first to come out of the drawing wheel, and Miss Mattie H. Beale, of Wichita, Kas., who drew the second number in the drawing.

They will have the privilege of making the first filings in the drawing district and will undoubtedly choose the two quarter sections adjoining that town. These are considered the most valuable in the territory, and are, it is estimated, worth from $30,000 to $40,000 each.

Twenty-five names were first drawn from the El Reno district and then an equal number from the Weatherford district. When all was ready, Ben Hoyer placed his hand in an aperture in the El Reno wheel and withdrawing an envelope handed it to Col. Dyer. It was passed to Chief Clerk Macy, stamped and handed back to Col. Dyer. The commissioner walked to the front of the platform raised his hand for order, and, in a loud tone, exclaimed:

"Stephen A. Holtcomb, of Paul's Valley, I. T., draws the first number."

The crowd yelled for three minutes, apparently as much delighted as if every man had drawn prize money. Envelope No. 2 was quickly drawn forth, and Col. Dyer again announced: "Leonard Lamb, of Augusta, Okla., born in Illinois, draws the first number in quick succession other envelopes were drawn, and as the names were announced each one was received with a volley of cheers. The first other successful winner in the El Reno district followed:

—Frank Brown, of Ponca City, Okla., born in Kansas.

—Calvin Churchill, Chickasaw, I. T.

—Charles D. Williams, Norman, Okla.

—Ollie M. Rogers, Cordell, Okla.

—Edward C. Prince, Watonga, Okla.

—Andrew J. Philhower, Sheldon, Mo.

—John Brown, Caldwell, Kas.

—John Shider, Weatherford, Okla.

When 25 names had been taken from the El Reno district wheel, attention was turned to that representing the Lawton district. The first name brought out for this district was that of James B. Wood, of Weatherford, Okla., and the crowd again went wild. This meant that Woods would be able to claim the quarter section adjoining Lawton town, one of the choicest in the entire country.

The second ticket was drawn, and Col. Dyer cried out:

"I have the pleasure to announce the name of the first woman to draw a prize, Mattie H. Beale, of Wichita, Kas." Then Col. Dyer gave her a description as 23 years old and five feet three inches in height, just the height of Woods. Instantly the crowd caught the humor of the situation, and thousands of throats set up the shout: "They must get married."

The other first names drawn from the Lawton district follow:

—Winfield S. Laws, Langston, Okla.

—Falcon Woodhouse, Eldon, Ia.

—Marvin Hawkins, Wayland, Tex.

—William C. Laird, Fort Worth, Tex.

—Harry T. Foster, agent for Harry E. Harrison, El Reno, Okla.

—Lee A. Stubbfield, Dunbar, Tex.

—Richard H. Wyatt, Henrietta, Okla.

—Charles C. Doss, Shawnee, Okla.

The eighteenth winner in the Lawton district was Mattie H. Beale, aged 23 years, of Oklahoma City. She was married Sunday, and by this act forfeits her right to file for a claim. She might have chosen to claim a county seat town several thousand dollars. The drawing was resumed this morning at nine o'clock.

REPEATERS THROWN OUT.

More Than Two Thousand Repeaters Discovered and Thrown Out.

El Reno, Okla., July 30.—It was announced that in tabulating the registration it was apparent that more than 2,000 "repeaters" had given at the various booths, many registering the identical name, address and personal description. All of these were thrown out and the applicants will not have over the 100,000 chance they were originally entitled to.

THE PURCHASE BOUNDARY.

Congressman Buntline, of Illinois, contends that Texas was in the Louisiana Purchase.

St. Louis, July 29.—Hon. H. S. Buntline, member of congress from Chicago, who championed the Louisiana Purchase position amendment to the sundry civil bill on the floor of the house, and helped gain the great signal victory for the fair, has written the following interesting letter to President Lincoln on the subject of the boundary controversy.

"I have to-day mailed you a copy of the last number of the Forum in which I have an article on the state of Texas. Now I do not want to inflict this article on you in the hope that the Louisiana Purchase commission will avoid the mistake of giving any countenance to the exploded notion that the province of Louisiana only extended to the Sabine."

"I have taken some pains to collect in this article the undisputed evidence on the subject, and there is no more question than that Louisiana extended to the Rio Grande than there is that it extended north of Arkansas."

The most eminent authority on this subject is of course the historian, Henry Adams, whose history of the United States makes the matter of the boundaries of Louisiana very clear."

CAPT. EULATE QUOTED.

The Commander of the Viscaya Considers the Brooklyn's Maneuver a Paper One.

New York, July 27.—Capt. Eulate, who commanded the Viscaya, at Santiago, in a cable reply to a request from the Journal and Advertiser as to his opinion of Rear-Admiral Schley's maneuvers in the battle of Santiago, said:

"As a gentleman, I can't appreciate any maneuver of the Brooklyn in the battle on the third of July in front of Santiago as an act of heroism, because, although the Brooklyn went to port when the Teresa, with Admiral Cervera aboard, tried to ram him, and afterward when I, in the Viscaya, also steered toward him, he further fell off 32 degrees."

This maneuver, considering the position of the other American ships, which were attacking the Viscaya by the stern and quarter, was a proper one."

The Christian Endeavor Convention

"The forward march convention."

Such is the title suggested for this year's international Christian Endeavor convention by the secretary of the great religious organization, John W. Baer.

The Endeavors meet in Cincinnati July 9 to July 10. Mr. Baer could scarcely have hit upon a better name, for the convention will mark a decided march forward in the affairs of the church.

On Tuesday morning President Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee institute will speak on "The Power of a Noble Life." Of peculiar interest to young men will be the address "Young Men and How to Fire Them With the Missionary Passion," to be delivered on Wednesday afternoon, July 10, by the Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton of Detroit. Dr. Boynton is the leading Congregationalist of Detroit and one of the best eloquent preachers in the United States.

In order to make attendance at the convention easy the railroad associations of the United States have granted a uniform rate of one fare for the round trip. Special excursion rates to the convention will be made by the railroads.

RESOURCES OF CRITTENDEN.

Feldspar Rich and in Great Deposits—A Thriving Industry

Numerous Graves of the Pre-Historic Mound Builders.

Special Correspondence of THE BEE.

After our arrival at Marion we look around at the town's wide streets, beautiful residences, flowery lawns, and numerous improvements until we conclude that it is one of the most beautiful and progressive towns in Kentucky.

Next we look at the vast deposits of feldspar and see the huge mills grinding it up and its being packed in barrels and shipped to the most distant parts of the world in competition with its only rival deposits—those of New Jersey and England.

Of all the minerals found in Crittenden county, which include coal, zinc, lead, iron, copper, gold, silver and many others, the feldspar deposit is the most valuable and extensive of them all. Men who were formerly supposed to be worth scarcely anything, will live comfortably the rest of their lives as the result of the feldspar development.

We watch the mines for some time and at length we grow weary of the noise and turn our footsteps across the country toward a range of hills several miles distant which are dimmed by a blue haze of smoke that seems to gradually clear away as we reach our destination.

Now we arrive at the valley close to the hills that we saw several hours ago, and in it are a large number of mounds erected in pre-historic times. The mounds vary much in size; some of them are very extensive while others are only a few feet high and average about four feet high. In many of them are found stone vases, rude weapons and many other things peculiar to the age in which they were buried.

On the other side of the valley there is a cave in which the dust is entirely different from that of the surrounding country. It contains a large amount of saltpetre which has preserved the skeletons of Indians buried hundreds of years ago. We dig into the dust and unearth a large skeleton. From the giant frame and the manner of burial we suppose it to be the remains of a chief. Near by are found the bones of his dog, tomahawk, arrow-heads and other weapons which he was to use on the hunting grounds of the Great Spirit.

After gazing at the spectacle until our curiosity is satisfied, we retrace our footsteps and think of the days when the red man roamed the forest in search of the pleasures of his savage life, and little dreamed that in after years he would be driven from his beloved hunting grounds by civilization in its onward march.

Louisville, with us throughout the trip."

"Luck seemed to be with me," said the Secretary, "for when I applied to the Denver and Rio Grande railway for transportation here came a reply from General Passenger Agent S. K. Hooper and his assistant, Mr. T. E. Swann, the former a New Albany boy who has gone to the top in railway passenger circles, and the latter a Louisville boy who was my classmate and playmate in my younger days. They gave me all I asked of them and more, too.

"I wish you would mention the Louisville Interstate Fair Association," continued Mr. Morningstar, "for they have done the handsome thing in arranging for that banquet at Colorado Springs, and then the Henderson Route should be given full credit for the special arranged to leave on Thursday morning, and which will carry the Eastern and Central Kentucky members to Madisonville.

"The attendance at Madisonville and the number to take the trip will exceed all former records, which makes it necessary for everybody to be at Madisonville on Thursday afternoon, when the transportation to the trip will be issued. Those who are there at that time will be provided for first."

A barbecue luncheon will be given at Lakeside Park to the members of the Kentucky Press Association and their ladies. This entertainment is extended to the Press of Kentucky by the St. Bernard Coal Company. A special train will be run to Madisonville by the Louisville and Nashville railroad, consisting of five coaches, to bring the Association into the city before noon Friday. The party will be handled promptly from the train to the park by our lively men and returned to the train for the trip back to Madisonville about 3 o'clock. The Madisonville reception committee and brass band will accompany the party.

Mayfield, Ky., July 25.—Ligon, Allen & Co., a tobacco firm of this city, filed a damage suit yesterday against the Graves County Water and Light Company for $45,400. Other suits were filed today against the same company. The attorneys are preparing other suits which they will file in a few days, which will amount to over $90,000. Sturgis Items.

STURGIS, Ky., July 26.—A sad accident occurred in the streets of our splendid little city last Monday. A horse drawing a buggy ran away. As he was passing through Adams street a brave lad of about twelve years, by the name of Jones Berry, attempted to stop him which resulted in him being knocked down and run over. Two large and very ugly gashes were cut in his head leaving a portion of the skull bare. Several stitches were necessary to close the cuts. Drs. Linde and Haynes attended the sufferer. Later it was discovered that his nose was broken and several minor injuries needed careful attention. He as present is improving but is not out of danger.

The farmers are blue over the loss of their corn crop but apparently happy that they received good prices for last year's crop which seems to exist in considerable quantities.
